DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Krowech et al.

Krowech et al teaches a lance device (36) including a frame, guide and pneumatic reciprocating drive means, in the embodiments of figures 2-4 for example, which can be operated in the manner recited in the instant claims, thereby showing all aspects of the above claims.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Woodings et al. Woodings et al teaches a lance device (the drill shaft) including a frame, guide and reciprocating pneumatic drive means, in the embodiments of figures 2 and 3 for example, which can be operated in the manner recited in the instant claims, thereby showing all aspects of the above claims since the drill meets the general description of a lance.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on 9/3/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument that the instantly amended claims distinguish over Krowtech because the reciprocating of Krowtech means only movement in a single direction and then back again rather than multiple movements back and forth is not persuasive at least because this recitation is at best a limitation regarding the use of the claimed apparatus and the recited use could be performed by Krowtech if desired, particularly since the instant claims recite no periodicity of the movement of the lance, so a plurality of movements back and forth, even over a period of days or weeks would broadly meet the requirements of the instant claims.

Applicant's further argument that Woodings et al employs its lance in a different operation is also not persuasive because the manner or method of use of an apparatus cannot be relied upon to fairly further limit claims to the apparatus itself. See MPEP 2114.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
